WILD ENTHUSIASM AT MADISON SQUARE GARDEN

-BICYCLE RIDERS DISSATISFIED. The closing scenes of the bievele tournament at Madison Square Garden last night were more spirited than on any other night of the contest. The attendance was between 4,000 and 5,000, and there was some enthusiasm manifested, especially when the riders did fast work. As the hour for the closing of the race approached, it was seen that either Ashinger, Lamb, Reading or Martin would win. An hour before the race ended Ashinger and Lamb were still tied for first place, while Martin was one lap behind and Reading two laps in the rear. The 1,000-mile mark was passed in seventy 15 minutes and 30 seconds from the start, with Lamb a few inches hi front.

Lumsden had a bad fall late on Friday night, breaking his nose and badly bruising his face and hip. This put him out of the race and he, Shock and Stage retired shortly after 9 o'clock. Wood, who had been ruled out of the short-distance races entered the Garden in the afternoon and begun assailing the referee. He was assisted from the Garden and struck Fourth-ave, on the top of Ms head. It was not a graceful exit. The crowd was worked up to a high pitch of excitement last night shortly after 9 o'clock, and the enthusism was so great that the billowy track fairly wabbled. Martin suddenly left the bunch, showing terrific speed. He was trying to make up that one lap. The other riders were determined that the little Detroit man should do nothing of the kind, and they started after him. The pace was terrific for several minutes, and the 1.000th mile was probably covered at as fast a pace as any other of the race. other of the race.

The close friends of Ashinger, the American, were on the anxious seat all day. Ashinger's wheel was in a dilapsisated condition, the rubber tire beng ready to collapse, apparently, at any minute. His trainers change, for he would have lost a lap. Ashinger

The race ended at 11:15 p. m., Ashinger winning by about a foot from Lamb, who was a lap and twenty feet shead of Martin, with Reading one lsp back. Just 3 minutes and 15 seconds were allowed for the last mile, and the distance was done looked the picture of death.

Eck's answer to the charges was a general denial. He says that he has fed and clothed the riders, and that their statement does him a great injustice. According to his statement nearly every bicycle tournament held during the last year has been a fallure. He says that the tournament at Boston was a fallure and the expenses were $3,800. He never promised that the expenses were $4,800. The newspaper advertising cost $400 more.

Eck acknowledges that he owes money, but says that no one has bothered him about it. He was arrested for indebtedness at Worcester, but not for old or personal debts. Eck seemed to think that he was a greatly abused man. He charges Howell with being drunk and all the riders with ingratitude. Eck's answer to the charges was a general denial.

ROSWELL G. HORR ON THE LABOR PROBLEM. With laughter and applause, which broke forth every few minutes, two hundred members and guests of the Aurora Grata Club listened to an entertaining and witty yet highly logical and forcible lecture on "The Labor Problem" by Roswell G. Horr, of Michigan, last night at their clubhouse, No. 1,160 Bedford ave.. Brooklyn. Those who have read Mr. Horr's lucid articles in "The Tribune," can imagine what an advantage the members of the club had over them, in being able to hear him, embellishing his remarks did, with all sorts of graphic and humorous gestures and quaint and funny stories.

As an instance of how labor gives a man the right to hold property, he cited a suppositutious case of the early man who dug the first well. He said that while brooks and all watercourses had belonged to everybody expended on it gave the digger the right to If men should come who were actually ing of thirst, he should be willing to give them water to drink, but he could certainly object to having the men hang around the well for weeks, or claim it alto-

TALK ABOUT TURF AFFAIRS.

Foxhall Keene's Suburban candidate, Tournament arrived at Sheepshead Bay yesterday. Sir Modred's greatest son appeared to be in A1 condition. He walks as sound as any horse in the country. He had a long rest and the benefit of a four-months' run ou in the blue grass of Kentucky. He is well in the Sahurban with 112 pounds on his back, and everybody on the turf, from the smallest stablelad to the heaviest plunger in the ring, knows that when just right Tour-nament can negotiate 1 1-4 miles in record time, as he is a free-running horse, and could take the track as soon as possible, and the others would have to catch him to beat him, a hard thing to accomplish had a new wheel ready, but Ashinger did not dare Foxhall Keene intends to give him every chance preparation this year, and the horse expected every minute to have the wheel give way will not have almost a season's work in him when he faces the starter in his first race.
